

yet another day of being accused of something you I don't know of, something I've never seen before. always being accused of doing something ~~you~~ I never did but then the life god knows what he's doing mara haii Fair why should I suffer from something I don't even know of being beaten of defending yourself of from something you don't know of orr is it me, Meskin I'm the problem am never trasted even when I'm telling the truth.

Just hate

myself

why

I'm

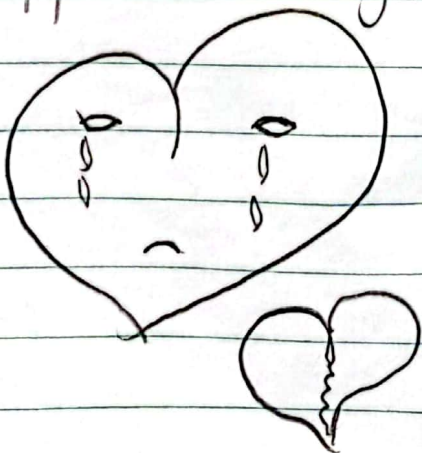

I

always

Life is just not living at this point

well I might say
back to the start Depression again

blamed for somethings

I
don't know
of
why
